Dilansir dari Detik Finance, Ecopetrol Group faced a highly volatile international market environment at the start of 2026. This period was marked by intensifying geopolitical tensions that directly impacted global logistics and energy markets.

Despite these external pressures, the company leveraged its operational capabilities to sustain its performance. The group achieved a significant production milestone, reaching 725,000 barrels of oil equivalent per day during the first quarter.

Strong domestic crude production, which stood at 527,000 barrels per day, helped offset

The successful exploration expands the total potential of the block. Furthermore, it directly contributes to bolstering the energy security of the country.

Ecopetrol also moved forward with the optimization of its upstream portfolio. This was achieved through new agreements signed with Parex and Gran Tierra within the Magdalena Medio region.

Transportation and Refining Highlights

The company transported 1,122,000 barrels per day during the quarter, representing close to a 2% increase compared to the same period in the prior year. This growth was driven by integrated management focused on maximizing infrastructure utilization.

The reversal of the Coveñas Ayacucho system played a crucial role during this period. This operational adjustment helped incorporate more crude oil and mitigated the impacts of lower domestic production.

In the refining segment, consolidated throughput reached 417,000 barrels per day, marking a 5% increase compared to the first quarter of 2025. The Barrancabermeja Refinery achieved one of the highest throughput levels in its operational history.

Meanwhile, the Cartagena refinery maintained a solid performance despite encountering operational events in March. Consequently, the refining margin reached $17.3 per barrel, representing a 60% increase compared to the first quarter of 2025.

International Expansion and Commercial Strategy

Aligning with its diversification and international expansion strategy, Ecopetrol advanced an agreement to acquire a majority stake in Brava Energia in Brazil. This investment is expected to strengthen its presence in a strategic geography.

Upon closing, the acquisition will add new reserves and incorporate high-quality assets into the portfolio. On the commercial front, the company actively managed rising freight rates through targeted logistical reliability strategies.
